Determination of Trypanosoma evansi antibodies in the population of Pernambuco State, Brazil. The determination of Trypanosoma evansi antibodies in the population of Pernambuco State, Brazil, was carried out to detect the infection by the parasite in its domestic and sylvatic hosts. The test of blocking ELISA (BioManguinhos/FIOCRUZ) was carried out with sera from three hundred and fifty eight animals. The highest number of positive animals were found in the state of Ceará, followed by the state of Paraíba. The prevalence in animals was determined for the first time in Pernambuco State, with a prevalence of 5.8% (1/17).

James Frederick Whyte Sir James Frederick Whyte FRSE FMedSci (7 June 1796–12 February 1884) was a 19th-century Scottish pharmacologist and toxicologist. Life He was born on 7 June 1796 the son of Reverend George Whyte of Singleton, then in the north of Scotland.
